Did you know?

The Surpass Platform offers 'self-publish' functionality

This allows you to automatically transfer items, test content and configurations from an item bank into our integrated test driver without any manual export or import processes. You can also utilize the internet-resilient Secure Browser mode to easily deliver high-stakes exam programs into your own (or 3rd party) test center network.

We pride ourselves on building positive long-term relationships.

“

“When we saw [the Surpass Platform] we were really excited about it! It was a full web-based solution... Without any formal training, an item author could go in and start using [it] to create items. That was really a key reason why we selected it.”

Jamie Saldutti - NBME (National Board of Medical Examiners)

“It’s critical for us to be able to deliver our exams directly to university medical schools and hospitals for the convenience of neurology programs. Surpass has provided us the flexibility to reach all of our candidates in a secure way.”

Lynne Shindoll - American Academy of Neurology

“The Surpass Platform has allowed [us] to deliver digital English proficiency tests at our Authorized Test Centers as well as expand into using [3rd party] test centers and online proctoring services.”

Fernando Fleurquin - Michigan Language Assessment
